The Northeast Conference for Undergraduate Women in Physics (NCUWP) empowers numerous undergraduate women to continue physics careers in both industry and academia via alumni mentoring, career and graduate school information session, job/internship recruiting fairs, and career development workshops.

At NCUWP 2013 you will be exposed to:
- student research presentations
- laboratory tours
- panel discussions
- networking opportunities
- career building workshops
- grad school & career fair

Don’t miss out on this amazing opportunity!

January 18th-20th, 2013
Cornell University

“It encouraged me continue to with physics because I love it . . . it made the whole idea of a career in physics all the more real and achievable”—Claire Paudano C’13

Register today!
www.ncuwp.org